

25 April 1949

ORE PLANS AND POLICY STAFF

Functional Statements -- Requirements Division

1. Mission

To provide guidance to available collection and source exploitation facilities and to insure that ORE components receive maximum benefit therefrom.

2. Responsibilities

In the fulfillment of its mission, the Requirements Division is responsible for:

a. Advice and assistance to ORE researchers on all problems related to the formulation and fulfillment of requirements for intelligence information from all available sources.

b. Coordination within ORE and through OCD with the IAC agencies for the final formulation of ORE requirements for intelligence information obtained through collection facilities for CIA and the IAC agencies.

c. Review of IAC agency requirements received through OCD channels for the consolidation therewith of such additional ORE requirements as may be necessary.

d. Preparation and submittal of ORE requirement directives to OCD.

e. Maintenance through OCD of close working relationship with the intelligence information collection components of CIA in order to insure that:

(1) ORE will have adequate knowledge of the collection capabilities and intelligence information potential of all available sources.

(2) ORE guidance is at all times consistent with opportunities for collection action and exploitation of available sources.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

- 2 -

Requirements Division

f. Coordination and review of the preparation of ORE assessments of adequacy, accuracy and timeliness of available intelligence information coverage. Preparation and arrangement for the issuance by AD/OIE of all action papers required to advise offices or agencies concerned of deficiencies in existing intelligence information coverage, and the need to develop unexploited sources.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~